Twelve-year-old Aimee Shaws only wish is to escape her boring, all-girl, no-alien private school and attend public school with her best friend, Bottle. That, and to never have to do another history assignment. Instead of writing her paper on the Interplanetary War, Aimee convinces Bottle to take a lunar flight to her favorite retro hangout, Lunas Cafe, for the most famous drink in the galaxy Lunas Original Bees Knees, Please. Their quick adventure turns dark when they see a shadowy figure watching them from the lunar landscape. When a hidden compartment in Bottles space cruiser reveals a strange, glowing egg-shaped orb they turn their attention to unraveling the mystery of what is it and where it came from. Horrified when Bottles dad is arrested for stealing the egg, the two discover the orb is actually a new and potentially dangerous prototype from Zenviron Energy Corporation. Before they can return it, two Shadowmen from another galaxy start looking for the energy sphere, and it leads them straight to Aimees houseputting everyone in danger. Will the four friends be able to stop the Shadowmen? Or are they in over their heads? ----- Read more about the gang at MilkyWayMystery.com.
